

Deep Dive Masterclass in Facilitation and Leadership

Go to a deeper level in your facilitation and leadership – and support people to contribute their best.

What stops you from being fully empowered in your work?

Get in touch with what holds you back as a facilitator and leader by expanding your self-awareness and understanding your triggers when working with others.

We help you create the space for your transformation; this is connected to who you are as a person, not just techniques to apply at work. It's about you being your true self, deepening your capacity for working with and leading people.

Our learning input is orientated towards your learning needs. We welcome your particular challenges and aspirations into our time together, using sociodrama and other action techniques to practice your skills and understanding.

What will you learn?

Masterful collaboration requires greater understanding of yourself at all levels; personal, political and spiritual. Here's your opportunity to step up. We'll cover how to:

- manage challenging behaviour, and stand by those experiencing pain or anger
- help people open up to others' views or generate their own new ideas
- foster a sense of safety and belonging to allow people to be their best
- support people to have courageous conversations, particularly when they are experiencing strong emotions
- reduce frustration and save time and money through clear design, planning and preparation
- work well with diversity, rank and power without shaming
- make groupwork more engaging and dynamic
- master collaborative decision-making to create greater ownership and impact.

Why with us?

We know you already have skills and experience in facilitation and leadership. With this training, you can go deeper in your work with people.

We provide a container to develop not only the practical skills but also space to learn more about yourself as a facilitator and leader.

We're internationally recognised as leaders in the field of facilitation and collaborative leadership training.

Our approach to training

We create an environment where you can look at your work practices with safety. Our work is lively, experiential and practical, fosters emotional resilience and allows for a bit of fun, too!

A large part of the program is devoted to practicing skills using real-life situations you want to work on. We allow time for you to address individual needs and issues faced in your workplace.
